

Internal Emotional Investigation

Assignment 1
Product Poetry, Fall 2012

The FLOPPY SUNHAT

and what it means to me...

There are many different kinds of sunhats

Purpose of a wide-brim floppy sunhat:

MAXIMUM PROTECTION FROM THE SUN! (at least on your face!)

As a skin-cancer-phobe, if I had my pick, I would always be wearing this when outdoors:

But... this is more practical, and more like the ones I wear:

My Internal Emotional Connection

Why do I wear them?

1.

I have skin that easily burns and freckles (aka I'm vain)

2.

I am afraid of and aware of the harmful, painful ramifications of skin cancer

3.

I caught an early-stage melanoma on someone close to me, and they had to have painful surgery :(

4.

I want to slow down the aging process

5.

Being outdoors wearing a sunhat reminds me of being happy (on vacation)

My floppy sunhat and me
